Commission Changes Zone To Block Six Story Apartments; Frankel Will Appeal Decision

Claims It Is "Distinctly Spot Zoning"; Plan Tightening Of All Multiple Dwelling Regulations; Victory For Civic Groups

Ephraim J. Frankel, Merion real estate developer, announced today that the decision of Lower Merion Township commissioners, zoning his proposed six-story apartment house out of Merion, would be appealed.

Meeting in the Township Building at Ardmore Wednesday night the commissioners not only turned thumbs down on Frankel's plan for an apartment house but they gave notice they intended to tighten the regulations for construction of all apartment buildings in the Township.

After the commissioners' meeting Frankel said: "This was not unexpected after the number of people who turned out for the first zoning hearing and the show they put on. What the commissioners have done is distinctly spot zoning and we intend to fight it. We intend to take it to Court."

"We'll take whatever action is necessary to protect Frankel's rights. There will be an appeal from the commissioner's decision. Whether we will go direct to Common Pleas Court or whether an appeal will be made to the Lower Merion Board of Adjustment we will decide later."

Although Frankel, owner of the apartment house at Lancaster Rd. and N. Larches Lane, holds a building permit to proceed the apartment house site is now in an R-3 residential zone which prohibits such construction.

Commissioners not only raised the zoning of Frankel's property but they jumped across to the North side of Old Lancaster Rd. and placed a strip of land from Edgemoor Rd. to Union Ave. also in an R-3 residential district. Both the Frankel property and this new strip on Old Lancaster Rd. had been previously zoned R-5 which permits apartment houses.

The unanimous action of the commission was a victory for the Merion Civic Association and allied civic groups that joined with them in protesting plans of Frankel to build. The Merion civic group was backed up by the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club in whose territory the re-zoned strip on the North side of Old Lancaster Rd. lies.

That the commissioners intend to open up the entire question of zoning for apartment houses is expected to provoke storm of protest from real estate promoters and trust companies holding desirable apartment house sites in the Township. Any tightening of the apartment house zones is expected to result in a lessening of the number of families who can be housed in such structures and, therefore, a reduction in the income from these properties.

Commissioners plan to give public notice that on the third Wednesday of September they will hold a hearing on the apartment house zoning question.

He is survived by his parents, William and Mrs. Leslie K. Beggs, and his wife, Marie, and two sons, James, Jr., four years old, and Robert, four months.

Annexation Price Of Political Peace

G.O.P. Chairman Says City Interests Seek County Control

Ultimate annexation of the Eastern end of Delaware County is the price being sought by powerful Philadelphia interests for political harmony, Arthur P. Brethrick, chairman of the Delaware County Republican Executive Committee, declared yesterday.

It was Brethrick, who at a recent meeting of Southeastern Pennsylvania Republican leaders, gave State party chairman, M. Harvey Taylor, the terms of political cooperation with Delaware County.

Brethrick's ultimatum to the State chairman followed a plea by Taylor that all party factions unite for a Republican victory in the Fall. He pointed out that Taylor and some of his admirers never had been able to forget the old Davis-Martin gubernatorial primary and, as a result, Delaware County was still out-of-the-cloud as far as State patronage was concerned.

Brethrick made the statement Wednesday in reply to an article that appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer under the head, "Martin Ignored in Merion Three." In the continuation of a vindictive patronage policy in Delaware County Brethrick said that Taylor was writing his own ticket of threats.

"I know," declared Brethrick, "if we would end our fight against the Philadelphia wage tax and the wage tax against the wage tax, we would end our fight against the Philadelphia wage tax and the wage tax against the wage tax."

The article in the Philadelphia Inquirer entitled "Martin Ignored in Merion Three" is misleading, he said. No threat was issued to anyone. The statement was made by me that Delaware County is co-operation in the future would be measured by the co-operation it receives from the State.

State Chairman Taylor stated at the meeting held last week that after the Primary Election fights were over there should be full co-operation by all Republicans. We in Delaware County agree with that but believe that no operation should be a two-way street. If the State Chairman wants it otherwise, that is a matter for his Committee to decide.

Contagious Disease Cases Are Reported

A total of 11 new cases of contagious diseases for the week ending July 27 have been reported in Lower Merion Township by Robert J. Thomas, township health officer.

The new case includes measles, two mumps, four tuberculosis, one and whooping cough, four. This brings to a total 61 cases for the first seven months of 1945.

Estate Accounted

In the estate of Charles Hartshorne of Lower Merion, one-ninth shares each were awarded to Charles H. Weston, Harold F. Weston and Esther W. King, according to the accounting of the $412,729.78 estate on Wednesday. The balance was awarded back to trustees for uses and purposes of trust. The present distribution was caused as a result of the death of Mary H. Weston, a daughter of the decedent, Oct. 22, 1944.

The first health board to meet will be Lower Merion on next Monday night, when provisions of the new State Act, approved by Governor Martin May 23, will be discussed.

At that time, preparation of a local ordinance will be considered which will supplement the State regulations and continue to require the examination of all food establishments and employees and a certification of their health. Robert J. Thomas, Lower Merion health officer, said Tuesday that he thought most members of the Lower Merion Board were in favor of continuing such a regulation.

Coast Guard Will Celebrate Birthday

Philadelphia Group To Be 155 Years Old On August 4

On August 4 the United States Coast Guard which had its origin in Philadelphia, will celebrate the 155th anniversary of the beginning of this great branch of service. Today celebrating the anniversary will be 172,000 men now serving in the Coast Guard as compared with the handful of men who were in the Coast Guard at its beginning. In 1790 Alexander Hamilton created the organization and began with the diminutive cutters costing $1,000 each. These figures are almost lost now when they are compared with the enormous strength of the Coast Guard of today.

On this birthday as on other birthdays since the war's beginning coastguardsmen will be carrying troops from Europe to the Pacific, over the electric mail, and will be busy supervising the big drive against Japan, still others will be on duty in the Philippines helping to clear the enemy from small islands by the use of the over-all assault.

Today celebrating the anniversary will be 172,000 men now serving in the Coast Guard as compared with the handful of men who were in the Coast Guard at its beginning. In 1790 Alexander Hamilton created the organization and began with the diminutive cutters costing $1,000 each. These figures are almost lost now when they are compared with the enormous strength of the Coast Guard of today.

Coast Guardsmen are too busy this year to give much thought to the stirring record of the nation's oldest naval service. They like to remember that famous cutters have taken a leading part in every American war of the last 155 years but today their job is current history.

One of the Coast Guardsmen on the Green-land patrol, the pharmacist's mate who worked under fire on the Anzio Beach, the coxswain who wears a Silver Star for bravery at Cape Gloucester, the electric mail carrier who went in with the first wave at Okinawa—these men date Coast Guard history from the Autumn of 1791.

Ardmore Woman Commits Suicide

Coroner Says Death Was A Result of Drinking Lysol

Miss Jean Batchelor, 52, of 132 Valley Rd., Ardmore, died on Friday afternoon at Bryn Mawr Hospital as the result of drinking Lysol.

Police said Miss Batchelor had also slashed her throat and wrists at the meeting held last week that after the Primary Election fights were over there should be full co-operation by all Republicans. We in Delaware County agree with that but believe that no operation should be a two-way street. If the State Chairman wants it otherwise, that is a matter for his Committee to decide.

Mrs. Grace Suffers Broken Bones in Fall

Mrs. Ruth W. Grace, of 200 S. Narberth Ave., Narberth, who fell in front of her home last week, has had her broken bones, which were diagnosed as a sprained ankle.

According to x-rays taken immediately after the accident, Mrs. Grace had nothing but a simple sprain, but after no sign of improvement, more x-rays were taken on July 25. These showed that two bones in her ankle were broken.

Elected Director

Charles H. Yardley, of 11 Green Hill Lane, Overbrook, who is controller of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, has been honored by election as a director of the Philadelphia Control of the Controllers Institute of America.

Yardley also will serve as chairman of the program committee during 1945 and 1946.

Health Officials Move To Implement New State Restaurant Law

Seek To Plug Loophole Doing Away With Medical Examinations

Local health officials this week sought ways and means of enforcing the new State act requiring a more stringent regulation of restaurants. At the same time they sought methods of plugging a loophole in the law which no longer requires health certificates for those handling food.

Although health authorities in Haverford and Lower Merion Townships and Narberth Borough have not met since the new restaurant regulations were sent to the State Department of Health by the State Department of Health for the inspection and licensing of all public eating and drinking places was being set in motion.

The first health board to meet will be Lower Merion on next Monday night, when provisions of the new State Act, approved by Governor Martin May 23, will be discussed.

Penn Valley Home Robbed of Jewelry

The Penn Valley home of Mrs. Robert A. Kerns was robbed some time last week of jewelry valued at several thousands of dollars.

Entrance to the home at 603 Conshohocken State Rd. was gained through a back window while Mrs. Kerns was away on a ten days vacation.

Three diamond rings, a diamond bracelet and a diamond bar pin were stolen.

M. F. Kelly Serves On USS Mobile

Narberth Boy Helps In Blows Against Okinawa

Martin Felix Kelly, seaman, second class, USNR, son of Mrs. Martin Kelly, 212 Iona Ave., Narberth, Penna., served aboard the light cruiser USS Mobile which ducked a dozen Kamikaze planes and evaded enemy mines, torpedoes and suicide boats in order to move in close and smash more than 350 Jap shore targets as he retribution to victory at Okinawa.

Sometimes during the campaign, the 37th major problem operation for the Mobile in this war, she moved in so close that her crew said they could readily identify uniform insignia.

The Mobile was attacked daily by everything from "hecklers" to attacks comprising a score or more enemy planes. Once eight Jap suicide planes were splashed with fuel by the gunfire of the Mobile and several other ships.

Meanwhile, she was doing wholesale damage to the Japs on the island. She blasted 80 caves where Japs were hiding troops and big guns. She knocked out 43 Jap mortars with direct hits and when the Japs tried to supply their front line by motor trucks, picked off 15 trucks.

One of the suicide planes which attacked her was a Zero, which was shot down in a range of 9,000 yards. Another got in to a range of 1,500 yards before being batted down.

Ardmore Soldier Is Now In Pacific War

Sgt. Joseph J. Loughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Loughlin, of 317 Crickel Ave., Ardmore, has been redeployed to the European Theater of Operations.

Loughlin is an administrative specialist and Acting First Sergeant of the veteran 7th Medical Supply Platoon (AVN).

Having received his basic training at Camp Lee, Va., Sgt. Loughlin was stationed at Mitchell Field, N. Y., and Fort Dix, N. J., before embarking for North Africa in January 8, 1943. His ship was hit in a collision at sea and the Sergeant spent an unexpected three weeks in Bermuda.

Sgt. Loughlin entered the service in October, 1941, and has been awarded the European-African-Middle East Campaign Ribbon, the American Defense Ribbon, the Good Conduct Medal, and a Bronze Service Star for participation in the North African Campaign.

Before entering the service Sgt. Loughlin attended Haverford Senior High School and was later employed by Herbert P. Foster, Builder and Contractor, of Ardmore.

Serves In Hospital On Stillwell Road

Lt. Col. Francis C. Wood, whose wife and family live at 212 Laurel St., Haverford, is now serving as chief of medical service at a large General Hospital along the Stillwell Road.

During the height of the campaign to drive the Japanese from Northern Burma and open a land supply route to China, thousands of American and Chinese soldiers were treated at this famed jungle hospital.

Col. Wood has been in the Army three years and overseas 28 months.

HERE AND THERE
by BETSY-ANN

Have you ever visited the "Little Lock Shop"? It's a little hole in the wall shop located at 104 Dudley Ave. (second house on the left approaching Windsor Ave. from Haverford). Entering the driveway you will see a small gable extending over a door way topped by two black keys on which is inscribed "Smedley's Lock Shop". The side of a large red key marked "keys made to order".

From the entrance you descend several steps into the tiny shop and there on three walls hang literally thousands of keys. Keys to fit every conceivable kind of lock—door keys, luggage keys, trunk keys, keys to fit bureau drawers and chests. There are some leather watch chains, key chains, and some exceptionally fine padlocks that are scarce today.

Back of this tiny shop is the work room with its drill press, grinders, buffers and key machines. Here saws, scissors and lawn mowers are sharpened, luggage is repaired, handles, locks, straps and keys supplied.

This unique shop is owned and operated by Nathan E. Smedley who came to Narberth in 1903. He started work when he was 14 years old and has been in mechanical work all his life. For the past 20 years he has operated the "Little Lock Shop".

Have you a lock that sticks? lost a key? Must be replaced, broken a key in a lock? Mr. Smedley will come to your home on call. He has sharpened 248 lawn mowers, since Spring, and expects the total to be over 300 before the season passes.

Mr. Smedley and his wife live at 104 Dudley Ave. They have two sons, four granddaughters and two great-grandchildren. Edward Smedley is an apt mechanic and assists his father in the lock shop. Dr. Roscoe Smedley, an osteopathic surgeon and physician, resides in Warren, Pa.

Services Are Held For W. R. Parvin

Wynnewood Man Was Chief Engineer For Penna. R. R.

Funeral services for Walter R. Parvin, 53, of 434 Owen Rd., Wynnewood, who died Sunday at Cape Charles, Va., where he was vacationing, were held on Monday at Oliver H. Bain Funeral Home in Haverford.

Parvin was chief engineer, maintenance of way, of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Eastern region, a position he held since February, 1943.

A native of Wilkesburg, Pa., he began his railroad career in 1912 while a student at the University of Pittsburgh from which he graduated as a civil engineer in 1915.

He served in various engineering positions at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and New York and in 1929 was promoted to division engineer of the Delaware and Chesapeake Bay Division with offices at Cape Charles.

In 1934 he moved to Chicago in the same capacity and three years later was transferred to Altoona. In 1938 he served on the chief engineer's staff at Philadelphia and moved to Indianapolis in 1940 as engineer, maintenance of way. He was a Mason.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter, Jean Ann, and a son, Rodney, serving with the Army in India.

George W. Supple, health officer, said he personally felt as though the certification of restaurant employees should not be dropped.

In Lower Merion, preliminary inspection of eating and drinking places, leading up to the issuance of licenses, already has been started.

Health officials will be required to make inspection reports out in triplicate, one for the Bureau of Health Conservation, Department of Health, Harrisburg; another for the proprietor and the third for the files of the inspecting officer.

Authorities in Haverford Lower Merion and Narberth Study Details, Covers Employees and Teachers As Well As Pupils, Starts Sept.

Plans for inaugurating a program for the complete medical and dental examination of all public and private school students, teachers and employees are being made in local suburban school districts.

Authority and money for the program are provided in an Act passed by the State Legislature and approved by Governor Martin on June 1, 1945.

Autocar Buys Two Ardmore Lots

Transaction Scotchies Rumor of Pew Interest In Company

Announcement this week that the Autocar Company has purchased additional property in Ardmore definitely scotched reports that the plant might be moved.

Rumors have been prevalent for some time that Joseph N. Pew, Jr., were buying controlling interest in or some of the Pew family affiliates the company and planned to move it to Chester, capital of their oil and shipbuilding industrial empire.

The Autocar Company disclosed that it has bought properties at 209 W. Lancaster Ave. and at 210 W. Lancaster Ave. from the Philadelphia Electric Company.

It was not revealed by the company what was the exact amount of the purchase price, but the agency representative of the Philadelphia Electric in its real estate dealings, said the sale price was approximately $225,000.

The properties involved in the transactions—one of the largest real estate deals on the Main Line in recent years—total as much as $300,000. The value of the actual value of the properties.

The North side property, now contains a garage, a storeroom and operations office of the Electric Company. It joins the Autocar's upper plant on the West and will make possible expansion of Autocar's site into the future.

The South side property, now occupied by a small stone building containing a gas governor, is next to the Autocar lower plant on the North. Its purchase will enable Autocar to create better access to and from the assembly plant and to facilitate recovery to increased production of heavy duty trucks for civilian use.

Robert Wood, advertising manager of the Autocar Company said yesterday that the purchases were made to facilitate moving of materials and finished products, although the company has no definite plans for postwar expansion.

The two properties have been used by the Philadelphia Electric Company as service headquarters for the Main Line division. The division headquarters will be moved temporarily to a garage and vacant school property at 909 and 925 Lancaster Ave., Bryn Mawr.

A spokesman for the Electric Company said yesterday that the lease on the temporary quarters will not exceed three years. The company, he said, plans to purchase property and build a new Main Line administration building to house both general offices and service operations.

Gladwyne Home Sold

Charles L. Campbell, Jr., reports the sale of a large modern residence in Gladwyne, Pa. The property, situated at Youngsford Rd., Gladwyne, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Nathan N. Filler for $27,500. The buyers were represented by Edward N. Cullen, 3d, Settlement has been made.

Fear Main Line May Fall Far Below Red Cross Quota When Mobile Unit Visits Here

Concern has been expressed by the Main Line Branch in securing donors for the visit of the Mobile Unit.

These donations are for blood plasma and at the same time donors will be typed to determine whether they are Type O. All Type O donors are eligible to contribute to the whole blood program. Their blood will be taken to only at the Philadelphia center and will be flown daily to the Pacific war fronts for emergency transfusions.

Type O donors are asked to cooperate with the local branch by going to the Philadelphia Center when called. For this emergency service eligible donors may be asked to give blood on short notice.

Mrs. Henrich also announced that the Mobile Unit will visit the 69th St. Branch on September 24, 25 and 26. The Upper Haverford Branch will cooperate with the 69th St. Branch in securing donors to meet their quota.

Narberth Public School Lists Wartime Activities For '44-'45

A report of the wartime activities of the Narberth Public School, issued this week, listed two Junior Red Cross First Aid classes for boys and girls of the seventh and eighth grades, 63,829 tin cans collected, and war stamp and bond sales of $30,786.30 for the school years of 1944 and 1945. Total bond and stamp sales since 1942 have reached $84,139.10.

Included in the Red Cross work was council work, collecting articles such as books, puzzles, games, magazines, victrola records, decks of cards, paper backed novels, etc., making friendship boxes, and 20 educational and health boxes were made for children overseas in occupied countries.

The pupils also made checker boards, writing boards, scrap books, checkers, decorated napkins, stuffed toys, tray covers, baby bonnets, booties, and wash clothes. Ten cartoon books were also made for the stockings of the veterans at the Valley Forge General Hospital at Christmas.

Sponsor of the Red Cross activities at the school was Miss Nelle Henry, a member of the Main Line Junior Red Cross Executive Committee. Two of the school council members, Miss Jane Drennen and Miss Katherine Blum, represented the school at the Main Line Junior Red Cross Council meetings.

A Victory Garden seed sale, under the direction of one of the faculty, netted the school fund $40.35, while $188.45 proceeds from the pageant, "A Community Rises," was placed in the School Fund for Junior Red Cross Work. The pupils also contributed $36.72 to the United War Campaign. The faculty contributed over $100.

Caves of considerable size have been found in at least 25 Pennsylvania counties. Some of these caverns are among the most interesting and well preserved in the Eastern United States. A few are of great historic interest and have yielded relics of long occupancy before the coming of the white man. Others are the scene of tragic or romantic events, preserved in the lore of the Indians or the early settlers.

Of the nearly one hundred named caverns in Pennsylvania only 14 have been commercially developed as attractions for tourists. Among these are some which are remarkable for the fantastic forms and bright coloring of the drapery which forms the stalactites, stalagmites, veils and curtains that line their chambers and winding passageways. While it is impossible to appreciate the astonishing and unworldly beauty of such formations as may be seen in many of the caves in the State's extensive limestone belts without the benefit of the modern lighting which has been installed in most of them, there are few human experiences more thrilling than that of exploring a cavern with only the faint light of an electric torch or the fitful gleam of a candle to lead one on, as it seems, into the very depths of the earth.

That far back in the history of Pennsylvania many of these caves served as shelters for great beasts, the natural enemies of primitive man, is revealed by the famous Felt, Kennedy Caves, along the Schuylkill River below Valley Forge, in which were found remains of two species of saber tooth tiger, a bear larger than any known specimen of grizzly, four species of giant sloth, a tapir and a mastodon. This cave has now been quarried away, but the record of these remains of ferocious or gigantic animals that once roamed in the neighborhood of the State's latest city will serve to remind us that through the wide area of limestone deposits in the Commonwealth may still be found relics of our remote past setted up for hundreds of centuries to await discovery by the pick of a quarryman or the exploration of some country boy.

In a cave newly opened or carefully preserved in its unspoiled state, one is more truly in the presence of the remote past than is possible through any other human experience. One sees fresh and beautiful, like the unveiling of a newly finished sculpture, the handiwork of a million years.

Home On Leave
Pfc. Ignatius Doran, son of Mrs. John Doran of Righters Mill Road, Gladwyne, is home on furlough for the month of August. Private Doran is connected with the Engine Overhaul Squadron of the Ninth Air Force, and has been stationed in India, first at Akera and later was transferred to Calcutta.

Emergency Aid Issues Appeal for Volunteer Canners

An appeal is being issued by the Emergency Aid of Pennsylvania for donations of fruits and vegetables for canning. The Food Conservation Committee of that organization hopes to provide the canteen at 17th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, with a minimum of 1000 cans of these items, for use throughout the winter.

Canning will be done in the kitchen of the Deanery at Bryn Mawr College under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Crawford, of Bryn Mawr, who headed a similar project last year at the Baldwin School. Beginning on Tuesday, August 7, volunteers will work Monday through Friday from 9.00 to 3.00 o'clock. Several women have offered their services but there is a need of additional volunteers. Mrs. Crawford will welcome any resident of this area who can spare time to assist in this helpful project. Members of the Main Line Junior Corps have expressed their willingness to assist in their spare time by delivering donations to the canning kitchen. This will apply to areas which present difficult transportation problems.

Mrs. Crawford will be assisted in the work by Mrs. George H. Thornton of Rosemont and Mrs. Herman D. Baumer of Philadelphia.

Why Give Blood NOW?

Because: This area has the honor of being one of the eleven in the U. S. A. charged with the privilege of supplying blood for plasma and type "O" Whole Blood for our wounded men.

Because: Jap suicide planes are causing heavy casualties. Men and still falling on Luzon and Okinawa. Lets bring them back . . . put them on their feet again. You can do this by donating blood.

Because: There is no greater feeling of personal satisfaction than to know that by a simply given gift of blood you have saved the life of a man, who is willing to shed All his blood for you.

Because: It is so easy for you to give your pint when the Red Cross Blood Donor Mobile Unit comes to Ardmore on August 6 - 7 - 8, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Because: Even if it weren't easy, which it is, and even if it took eight days (it takes only three-quarters of an hour), even if it hurt (which it doesn't) it would still be worth your while and your pint of blood to save a life.

Rain, Rain Go Away -- Stay Away - Main Line League Wants To Play

Brookline Scheduled to Play Narberth Sunday For Second Place Battle; Manoa to Play Llanerch; Ardmore at Collegeville

Undisputed possession of second place in the Main Line Baseball League will be at stake Sunday when Brookline and Narberth clash in the 'rubber game' of their season's series at Brookline.

If the weather relents—the league has been washed out three consecutive weeks—there is every reason to expect a ding-dong battle between these two teams which have been pacesetting Manoa's leading challengers all year.

Not only are Brookline and Narberth tied for second place with identical records of six victories against four defeats, they also broke even in their previous meetings. Narberth defeated the Braves 6-2, early in the campaign, but the next trip around the circuit saw Brookline emerge victorious in a 4-3 thriller.

Len Smith, Brookline ace who is tied with Manoa's Walt Capwell for pitching honors and who is leading in strikeouts with 31, is a cinch to hurl for the Braves. Manager Gene Davis will send Jim Craig to the hill as his opponent, hopeful that the enforced springing an upset. Ardmore travels to Collegeville, where it needs a victory over the Superiors in order to keep in the fight for fourth place and a spot in the post-season playoffs.

Ardmore defeated Collegeville 6-2 in their first meeting, but Collegeville evened the count, 6-2, when they clashed at Collegeville.

No definite decision has been made by the league regarding the staggering number of postponed games that has piled up. According to Secretary Charles E. Harnden, the league won't set any dates for the playing of postponed games for at least two weeks, fearing that by that time the playoff positions may be decided and thus possibly making the playing of the postponed games unnecessary.

Whitey Jepson, Brookline first baseman, was suspended by President Walter Hanley for a run-in with Umpire Loughrey in the Manoa-Brookline game of July 22. Jepson was tossed out of the game when he reportedly seized the umpire by the shoulders and whirled him about while arguing over a called strike. Whether or not Jepson's suspension will be lifted this weekend depends on Hanley's further investigation of the case this week.

Bill Ash, Manoa first baseman, is still leading the league in batting and in almost every other department. His average is now .521.

The league's individual leaders follow:
Batting—Ash, Manoa, .521.
GP 11; AB 48; H 25.
Hits—Ash, Manoa, 25.
Runs Batted In—Snyder, Manoa, 14.

Doubles—Ash, Manoa, 4.
Triples—Ash, Manoa, 3, and Salvatore, Brookline, 3.
Home Runs—Ten.

Stolen Bases—Salvatore, Brookline, 5.

Tennessee, last year's Rose Bowl champion, Army, Navy, Holy Cross, Boston College, Marquette, Bucknell, Detroit and Sampson Navy. And all but two of these top-flight opponents will be met on foreign grounds.

Most fans are convinced Villanova either "has something" or is about to commit national suicide as far as football is concerned. The chances are neither assumption is correct.

About 70 percent of the candidates who started practice Monday under Coach Jordan Olivar were civilians or discharged veterans. Twenty-five are 17 years old and nine others are 18. The other candidates are trainees of various ages. According to Olivar, the boys are bigger than last year and he expects his reserves to be much stronger. He believes it is the first wartime squad he's had that will enable him to build for the future.

Fans of some Villanova followers that the Wildcats will take such fearful beatings that their football reputation will be ruined and may never again command a major schedule can be answered by the undeniable fact that when Villanova had its greatest teams it wasn't able to line up a schedule comparable to the present one.

Villanova won't be expected to make much of a showing this fall, so if it should come up with an unusually scrappy team and create an upset or two it possibly would bring as much credit and favorable publicity to the college than if it had a stronger eleven playing in minor league competition.

But we're old fashioned enough to believe it more sensible to remain in one's brains than to ask to have one's brains beaten in.

HOW ABOUT TEMPLE
Could it possibly be that the Villanova-Temple rivalry, one of the most spirited and promising prior to the war, won't be revived in the near future?

The Wildcats and Temple both have an open date October 24, but efforts to arrange a game between them have fallen through. Villanova is quite willing, but it is reported Temple will have no part of the Wildcats.

Temple has an all-Illian team series with Villanova with the argument that it couldn't compete with the Wildcats while the latter had Navy and Marine trainees available.

Now one hears rumors to the effect Temple was glad for this excuse and has no intentions of resuming the series after the war. One of the reasons is supposed to be that Temple did most of the promotion and work in the series, provided its stadium, etc., while Villanova took half the proceeds and usually wound up winning the games.

We trust these rumors are unfounded. The Villanova-Temple game was one of the high spots of the Philadelphia football season and was one of the big money makers for both schools. We believe the schools are too practical to allow small differences, if any exist, to keep them apart in the post-war period.

The revival of the game also means much to the alumni of both schools and they should make their wishes known—pronto and loud!

BADMINTON POPULAR
Kay O'Connell, one of the directors of the Haverford Township Recreation program, has been greatly pleased and encouraged by the increasing number of adults who are participating in badminton Thursday evenings at the high school.

The enthusiasm of the participants has been so great that Miss O'Connell believes it might be possible to form a badminton club and arrange playing nights at the high school this winter.

This would be a logical follow-up to the summer program. Badminton clubs have been active in other communities for years. The time certainly should be ripe for one in Haverford.

Stella Walsh Enters Sports-Go-Bang

Stella Walsh, the greatest woman athlete in the history of American sports, has consented to appear at Sports-Go-Bang, the mammoth sports carnival at Municipal Stadium on the night of August 7th for the benefit of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind.

Miss Walsh will be seen at the huge sports carnival in a match race against some of the outstanding male runners of the Philadelphia area, and will also appear in a surprise role in one of the feature events of the evening.

Only One Game In Club League Played

Championship playoffs, scheduled for mid-August in the Main Line and Upper Darby clubs, have been postponed several weeks if the weather doesn't break soon for baseball in the Main Line and Upper Darby sections.

Because rainy weather has prevented play on two weekends when make-up doubleheaders were scheduled, some teams are as far as seven and eight games behind schedule.

This week three games were squeezed in on wet grounds but in one, the two clubs battled seven scoreless innings and were prevented from reaching a decision by darkness.

Jimmy Natalie's Nationals, yet to score a victory this season, came close when Llanerch and Fritz held the Nationals down to one double by Mather in the sixth. The Nationals, however, connected for only two singles off Burns who walked one and fanned seven.

The Ardmore Eagles lost ground in the race although they still held second place this week when Narberth Boys' Club scored a 2-1 decision at the General Wayne field.

Monk Jefferies held Pat Bilancia's nine to one hit and fanned eight batters while Piccoli gave up three hits including a double by Elzickson. By his victory, Narberth replaced Kirklyn in third place.

The Ardmore Optimists won their fourth straight game as Harry Whitney gave up only two scattered hits and fanned 13 as Joe Massetti's nine defeated the Overbrook Clippers, 5 to 1.

The Optimists added the Clippers to their victory string consisting of the Berwyn, Kirklyn and Stonehurst nines in the past two weeks. Muraski led the winners at the plate with two hits, one a double.

ARMSTRONG; SNYDER In Shibe Park Game

Walter Armstrong and Bill Snyder, two members of Manoa's American Legion team, have been selected to participate in the second annual All-American Boy baseball game at Shibe Park Monday afternoon.

The game is sponsored jointly by the American Legion and the A's and Phillies.

Armstrong, 16-year-old Llanerch resident, was a member of Friends Central's co-champion Interacademic League nine and has been playing with Manoa in the Main Line League. Snyder, 17, was one of the pitchers on Saverford High's Suburban One League championship team. He pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Haverford School.

Areas Has Clean Slate On Polio

Lower Merion, Narberth and Haverford Township are free from polio, according to the three health departments.

There are no signs of the disease and no new persons have been placed under quarantine this week.

The five children who were placed under observation in Lower Merion last week have been discharged by their family physicians.
